Book Tree

Books for kids—help put a book in the hands of every child at Blank Children's Hospital

Help celebrate the 2011 Festival of Trees and Lights by donating books for children who are patients at Blank Children's Hospital. Child Life Specialists help young patients pass the time by reading to them. In addition, each child gets a new book to take home.

Donations of NEW, developmentally and culturally appropriate books.

The primary need is for books for children from toddlers to middle school, although books for older children are also needed.

Please no books about sensitive issues like divorce, abuse or death.

Groups donating 100 books or more will receive special recognition at the Festival of Trees and Lights.
